AWARDS
2018

Sponsorship of the Brownfield Briefing Awards guarantees exposure at the brownfield industry event of the year, known for bringing together the most reputable, successful and innovative companies in the sector.

Now in its 14th year, the Awards ceremony presents a unique opportunity to meet developers, remediators, contractors and stakeholders that are involved in a broad range of innovative projects and developments in the UK and abroad.

Last year's categories include:

- Best use of a combination of remediation techniques
- Best in situ treatment
- Best conceptual design
- Best scoping or operation of a site investigation
- Best project closure/ verification process
- Best public participation (including use of visualisation)
- Best re-use of materials on a project
- Best science/laboratory advance
- Best digital innovation in brownfield
- Best urban regeneration project
- Best brownfield infrastructure project
- Best biodiversity enhancement (including SuDs)
- Best young brownfield professional

By sponsoring, your company will be associated with:

- The only awards ceremony solely dedicated to recognising best practice in the brownfield, regeneration and contaminated land industry
- The most innovative projects being delivered in the UK from some of the country's most respected consultants, contractors, developers and associations
- A glamorous Awards Gala Dinner in Central London's The Tower Hotel, which last year was attended by over 400 of the industry's most influential public and private sector individuals in contaminated land, remediation, regulation and development
- A high-quality publication detailing the winners and highly commended projects, distributed to Brownfield Briefing's national network of industry practitioners
